

Jeffrey C. Piccolomini
President
Henkel of America, Inc.

Jeffrey C. Piccolomini is President of Henkel of America, Inc., the North American affiliate of Henkel AG & Co. KGaA. Piccolomini is responsible for the company's corporate and shared services functions in North America, including Finance, Legal, Human Resources, Information Technology, Purchasing, Communications, Internal Audit, Treasury, Tax, and Environment, Health & Safety.

Prior to becoming President of Henkel of America in July 2008, Piccolomini was Senior Vice President of Finance. He joined the company in 1980 through Loctite Corporation and held increasingly responsible finance and business positions, including Vice President Operations and Chief Financial Officer for Loctite Americas, President of Loctite Luminescent Systems, and Assistant Corporate Controller. He also worked as a senior accountant at Ernst & Young prior to joining Loctite.

Piccolomini earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting from the University of Hartford, and is a Certified Public Accountant.

