

Henkel Innovation Trophy Declaration of Data Protection

I have taken note of the data protection statement ("Privacy Statement") and agree to this statement.

I agree that Henkel KGaA, Deutschland, ("Henkel") may collect and process in a database all personal data submitted by me through the participation form for the inventors contest "Henkel Innovation Trophy - Partners in Innovation". The database will be accessible to all employees of the Henkel group of companies ("Henkel-companies") and to the appointed external members of the jury to assess the inventions presented with regard to their usability for Henkel. I further consent to the submission of such data to third parties outside the Henkel-companies, who shall protect the personal information submitted within the framework of the Henkel companies' corporate policy and pursuant to the regulations in force and effect in the European Community as far as this is necessary according to the General Terms of Participation.

I agree that Henkel may store and process my personal data as long as necessary for the purpose of the participation in the inventors contest "Henkel Innovation Trophy - Partners in Innovation". My data will be deleted after completion of the contest.

I know that I may demand that my personal data stored by Henkel may be updated, corrected or deleted from Henkel's database and that I may withdraw my consent to the future use of such data by addressing admin.innovationtrophy@henkel.com.
